Inspire your audience through the beauty of Bloom

Brimming with colour and creativity, Bord Bia Bloom is one of Ireland's most unique outdoor experiences, attracting over 100,000 attendees to a 70-acre site in Dublin's Phoenix Park each June bank holiday weekend.

A five-day celebration of gardening, food and sustainable living, it provides influential brands and organisations with a powerful opportunity to engage with their target audience, tell their stories, and encourage debate around the issues that matter to them.

Our visitors come to Bloom each year to be entertained and inspired. They are looking for a fun day out with family and friends, to see the spectacular Show Gardens, to sample the delicious food on offer, and to enjoy the hundreds of live talks, demonstrations and performances. But more than that, they come to learn. They are hungry for knowledge and receptive to ideas about how to grow better, eat better, feel better, live better.

This is why so many of Ireland's leading brands and thought leaders return to Bloom time and again, understanding that the festival is a hugely influential springboard that allows them to kickstart important conversations in person on-site and at home through the high-level media presence at the event.

And, as the first event in Ireland to secure ISO 20121: 2024 accreditation for Sustainable Event Management, sponsors can rest assured that they are participating in a festival that is designed and built with the upmost respect for the environment.

As we prepare to celebrate 20 years of Bloom in 2026, a select number of features are now available for sponsorship. To learn more about these opportunities or to hear about how we can work with you to develop exciting new activations at the festival, please contact our sponsorship team.

What our sponsors say

+33 Sponsor Net Promoter Score (NPS)*

“We have worked with Bord Bia Bloom for two years, supplying HVO to power the event and sponsoring the hugely popular Sustainable Living Stage within the festival’s Conservation Area.

This has been a valuable opportunity for us, not only to fuel such a prestigious, large-scale event, but also to position our brand at the heart of its important and growing sustainability content. This allows us to engage directly with thousands of consumers who are actively looking for ways to lower their carbon footprint and helps us communicate the value of switching to renewable energy solutions.

The support we have received from the team at Bloom has been invaluable and we are keen to build on this partnership in the future. I have no hesitation in recommending Bloom to other brands and marketers who want to be in front of a highly engaged audience.”

Trevor Koen,
Head of Marketing & Digital,
Certa

“We value the trusted partnership that we have built with Bord Bia Bloom since the festival began in 2007. Over the years, our involvement has grown from participating in the Food Village to becoming the title sponsor of one of Bloom’s restaurants for the past 11 years.

We have developed a strong relationship with the Bloom team. We enjoy working hand-in-hand with them, sharing our expertise in growing seasonal produce, and contributing to the development of the restaurant’s menu. We are delighted to play our part in helping to improve the sustainability of festival by advising on a number of sustainability initiatives, including; Bloom’s transition to HVO fuel last year, and in 2025, we have partnered with Bloom to pilot an innovative biodigester in the Country Crest Restaurant.

Bloom offers us a unique platform to build our brand and promote our produce to more than 100,000 consumers. It also gives us an opportunity to engage in important conversations about growing locally and in season, reducing food waste, and promoting sustainable practices. We look forward to many more years of working together with Bloom.”

Breda Leonard,
Marketing Manager,
Country Crest

“We have joined Bloom as a sponsor for the last two years, first sponsoring the Óir - The Zarbee's Garden in 2024, then returning to sponsor the Garden Stage in 2025.

We would absolutely recommend sponsoring a feature at Bloom. The festival is highly creative, PR friendly, and offers unique opportunities to reach over 100,000 attendees. The Bloom team are hugely supportive through every step of the journey, making it a very enjoyable sponsorship experience.”

Micheala Cronin,
Senior Commercial Marketing Lead,
Zarbee's

“Bord Bia Bloom has consistently allowed us to restart conversations around the Citroën brand, our ambitions, and helped to at least put the brand back into the consideration set of potential new car buyers. The benefits extend beyond the event itself and into the 2026 sales period.”

Trevor Hunt,
Citroën Marketing Manager

“Tirlán CountryLife is proud to support the Postcard Gardens at Bord Bia Bloom, which are one of the festival's most popular visitor attractions. These pocket gardens, which are created by amateur gardeners in garden clubs, community groups, charitable organisations and schools from across Ireland, are cherished by Bloom's visitors, who delight in the designs, the stories they tell, the localities they showcase, and the important issues that they highlight.

Community is at the heart of what we do at Tirlán CountryLife so we were delighted to take our long-running relationship with Bord Bia Bloom to the next level with this sponsorship at Bloom 2024 and 2025. It has allowed us to place our brand at the centre of this treasured feature, market our garden centres and horticultural expertise directly to an active and engaged audience of more than 100,000 attendees, and strengthen our ties with communities locally.”
